

Where God Is, You Cannot Go

You once called me brother. That means something to me still.

Your church declared that I am among the lost and ultimately excommunicated me. You must decide for yourself if the church is correct or in error. If you agree with your church, what does that mean for you?

We are each bound by the commandment to leave the ninety-nine, seek the lost one, and restore him or her to the truth.

In your case, there is a much greater urgency.

According to Doctrine & Covenants 25:15, if you do not keep this commandment, where your God is, you can never go. For the sake of your eternity, you must come see me. You will always be welcomed as a cherished friend.

God bless!
